ALEŠ KUDRNÁČ

This seminar focuses on sharing experiences from designing and conducting a large-scale online panel survey of Czech high schools. This 90-minute seminar will be divided into two main parts. First, we will focus on the practical aspects of data collection, including survey design, sample creation, incentives, communication with schools, and troubleshooting. Second, we will discuss how to design, collect, and use classroom peer nominations in your research. There will be an open discussion at the end of the seminar. Please note that the aim of this seminar is not to present results but to share experiences that may help other doctoral students and researchers in preparing school surveys in the future.

The research was supported by the project GAČR reg. no. 23-07283M.

The seminar is freely accessible for those attending in person, if you intend to attend online, please fill in your email on our website <https://www.soc.cas.cz/>
